The Best Thing About Kingsway Business Park

It’s clean, modern and serviced well. It provides our staff with a much nicer environment to work in.

“The RDA offered some great incentives that made the move attractive. They were very accommodating with us making changes to the unit such as installing our cranes, putting in electric car chargers and modifying the offices.”

KP Industries has many years’ experience in the design, manufacture, integration and servicing of automated handling and conveying systems and is trusted by some of the UK’s top companies to carry out “Turn Key” projects within their facilities.

Already based in Rochdale in a number of smaller units, KP Industries were running out of space and began searching for a new location to base their industrial manufacturing business to support their continued growth.

Attracted by the fact that Kingsway Business Park was a new, prestigious development and its location being close to where they were already based, KP Industries began exploring the potential move to Kingsway.

The proximity to their existing premises meant that there would be minimal disruption to the workforce in terms of commuting and the new location provided great access links to the motorway.

“There is a real sense of community at Kingsway Business Park. The Rochdale Development Agency are brilliant at hosting events and bringing everyone together. It feels like you are a part of something.”
